

TEXAS HEART[®] INSTITUTE

James T. Willerson, M.D., Cardiovascular Seminars

The 2016 – 2017 Academic Season has officially ended.

The Organizing committee of The James T. Willerson, M.D., Cardiovascular Seminar (JTWCVS) series would like to thank all of you for your interest and participation.

JTWCVS series is a multi-institutional program organized by the Texas Heart Institute, MD Anderson Cancer Center, and The University of Texas Health Science Center at Houston.

The seminar series provides a unified forum for the cardiovascular research community within the Texas Medical Center to meet, and it connect us to outstanding scientists nationally and internationally. Seminars are held most Thursdays from 4:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. in the Denton A. Cooley Auditorium at the Texas Heart Institute every academic year September through May. There is no cost to attend the seminar and is open to the public with a special focus toward post-doctoral fellows, scientists, researchers and physicians.

We are working on an excellent line up of speakers for the upcoming 2017-2018 academic season. The list of speakers and notices for the start of the next academic season (September 2017) will be posted in early August 2017.

Also, two (2) Journal Clubs are scheduled on July 20, 2017 and August 17, 2017.
